

Women in Technology and Science (WITS)
invite you to a breakfast launch on Wednesday February 20th, 8:45am-10am, The Science Gallery, Naughton Institute, Pearse Street, Dublin 2
http://www.sciencegallery.com/find\_us

WITS and InterTrade Ireland are delighted to launch

The Re-Enter Programme

The Re-Enter programme is an all-Island pilot programme which aims to re-skill and re-train experienced women scientists, engineers and technologists who want to return to work after a career break of a year or more. The programme consists of a 10 week accredited educational programme delivered by the Open University, followed by a period of mentoring and networking.

The 'graduates' of the Re-Enter pilot programme will be role models for other women who wish to return to a career in science, engineering or technology.

Date: Wednesday February 20th, 2008

Time: 08:15-10:00 (networking and breakfast from 8am)

Guest Speaker: Mr. Mícheál Martin TD
Minister for Enterprise, Trade and Employment

Moderated discussion: There will be a short focused discussion on: "How women returning to work can bridge the skills shortage in Science, Engineering and Technology"

RSVP: re-enter@witsireland.com or telephone +353-87-769-0319

WITS, PO Box 3783, Dublin 4
www.witsireland.com

women in technology and science

